

Arctic Fox

The Arctic Fox is Iceland's only native land mammal. Perfectly adapted to cold climates, it changes its coat color with the seasons—white in winter and brown in summer. Arctic foxes are resourceful hunters, feeding on birds, eggs, and small mammals.

